Last Week's Program

Last week's program was about the Children's Museum of the Upstate, presented by President and CEO Nancy Halverson. She told us that the Museum in Greenville has been open 9 years and has an annual economic impact of over $3M, with nearly 200,000 visitors per year. It is the first children's museum to be named a Smithsonian Affiliate. She provided details about the museum that will have its grand opening on Magnolia Street in Spartanburg on May 19th.

Upcoming Programs

- | | | |
|----------|--|-----------------|
| April 3 | Partners for Active Living | - Laura Ringo |
| April 10 | South Carolina Author | - Kathryn Smith |
| April 17 | Current Market Outlook & Long-term Investing | - Beth Hrubala |

Ann Angermeier will have a van parked outside through the end of March for USC Upstate's Clothing Closet. This is for students in need of clothing for job interviews, internships and/or jobs. All donations are tax deductible.

Also, we will be taking donations for PS I Love You towards purchasing storage bins and shelving. Rotarians can also offer to volunteer by leaving their business card with a note on it, or just getting in touch with Angela Viney or President Eric. And, Rotarians can bring chocolate Easter bunnies the that will go to the children served by PS I Love You.
